The Bubbler

CLASS OF 1955

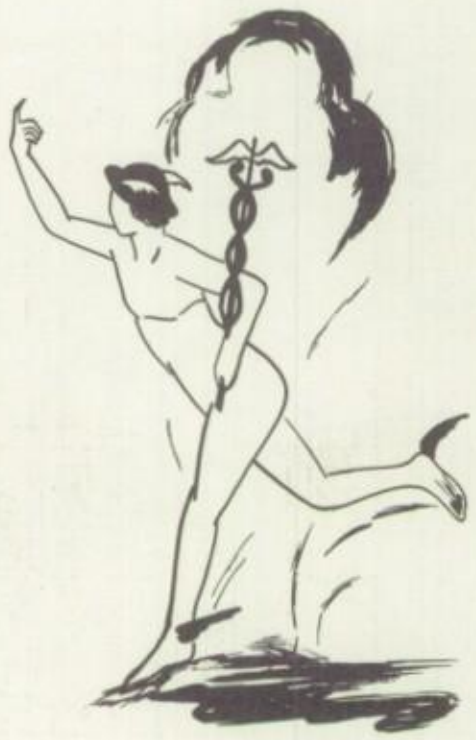
BOILING SPRINGS HIGH SCHOOL

Boiling Springs, Pennsylvania

Foreword

Within this volume, the eleventh edition of the BUBBLER staff of the Class of '55, have tried to record a few of the many phases of high school life.

We have attempted to gather together the most interesting and cherished activities and events of our high school days. And it is our hope that in years to come you may recapture these happy moments from this book. We have used the classical theme "Gods and Goddesses" to better visualize these memories.



Administration

JUPITER
King of the Gods

We, the Senior Class of Boiling Springs, wish to dedicate this yearbook to you, our School Building. We owe a debt of gratitude to you because you have educated us with the knowledge that we need to know in order to maintain life on this earth. It is through your foundation that we started and through your structures that we grew; that is why we humbly dedicate this yearbook to you.

A Trip Into the Future

The Ides of March are at hand and as I pack my bags to leave for Washington to confer with proper authorities about the preparation of my income tax, I think of the year 1955 when my high school graduating class visited the famed city. Suddenly I remember the time and hear the Flight Manager shout "All in for Washington."

As we are gliding through the air, I can see Wilmot Jumper working in the fields of his dairy just outside a small town where Creedon Coulson Industrial Arts Teacher, and Roberta Axelson, history teacher are teaching in the local high school.

Now we are over Baltimore where I find Vance Weibley just entering his clothing store and Jeanne Kuhn, as his secretary is busily typing and mailing letters. In an adjoining office bookkeeper Miriam Harry is balancing his books.

As the town fades away, we are again flying over the beautiful farm land and I see Betty Chronister going into the house after finishing the morning chores at the barn, to wake and get the children off to school. Still floating through the air, I glimpse the Maryland University Campus where Paul Bishop, and Charles Sherman are coming from dressing after a hard practice. They have been scrimmaging in preparation for the football game the following week and discussing the new coach, Tom Lebo. At this same college, in the homemaking class Joan Brandt is completing her semester project.

The hostess, Marjory Morrow, is saying, "Fasten your safety belts; we'll be in Washington in ten minutes." As we land I see a Saint Patrick's Day parade coming down the street, and whom do you think I see? None other than Ruby Lindsay, Fran Rowles, and Faye Heberlig marching with the WAC's. Watching the parade are secretaries Gwen Fenicle, Darlene Herr and Janice Mellott. As the parade goes on down the street I stroll on and am startled by a toot—upon turning, I see Bob McNew driving a truck for a local concern. On the way to my destination I stop at the Agriculture Building and Jay Mellott, office manager, is taking notes on farmer Robert Nealy's plea for better prices on farm crops.

As I stop for a moment to rest, I spy Dean Leib, Secretary of the Navy, inspecting the submarine Albacore, with his secretary Marie McCoy and an electronics technician, Ron Tanger. Farther down the street there is someone hanging a shingle which reads, Ronnie DeRamus, Attorney at Law. At the end of the street is the Pentagon where Carol Groce and Donna Stoner are typing and doing general office work for government officials.

As I make my way to the capitol to file my income tax, I pass the hospital where nurses Joyce Ressler and Carol Weast are preparing a special diet for the President of the United States.

Arriving at the capitol, I am greeted by Frances Brandt, receptionist who shows me to the tax office of Cletus Wise. After his secretary, Peggy Maurice, finds my account in the files and it is checked to the satisfaction of both of us, I tour the capitol building, where in an anteroom I overhear George Books confiding to his secretary, Donna Shughart, that his local Congressman, Charles Witter, has promised he will buy his surplus apple crop. At the White House the First Lady is having her hair set by Joyce Zimmerman, her personal beautician, while in a well-equipped laboratory Bob Clark prepares a new medicine for the ailing president. His medical secretary, Shirley Rynard, takes his formulas. Pat Goodyear is tutoring the president's ten-year-old son in reading, writing, and arithmetic.

My plane is scheduled to leave in an hour so I hail a taxi, and find the driver to be Clarence Peiper who whisks me to the station. While waiting for my plane, I buy a national paper to find the names of Rich Ocker who has just won the lightweight boxing championship; and on the fashion page I see Chris Davis has just designed a new clothing fad which will rock all Hollywood.

On the plane once again and we're once more flying over Washington. I see a school were Jane Crum, art teacher, and Darrell Clepper, mathematics teacher, discuss the spring edition of the school yearbook. As we fly over the beautiful farm land of Ken Clippinger, Baltimore comes into sight. In a distance is a skyscraper of a large business firm, and on the 13th floor is Shirley Chronister taking dictation from the president of the company, Tim Gephart. In another office of the same building Shirley Lowery is filing the end-of-the-year reports.

Flying on now, I return to my newspaper and see a picture of Bob Lynn beside the car that won him fame in the California races. Passing through one more town before arriving home I see Max Lebo, inspecting a new hearse, and Paul Dugan, Civil engineer, talking to Mayor John Stover about the city works, while his secretary, Fran Motich, records their conversation in shorthand. As we reach the end of town there is John Rowles, home on furlough from the Navy, and Marlin Lear and Vance Raudabaugh who has been discharged from the service—comparing service experience over a coke in the local drugstore.

Now, flying through the countryside, I spy Chester Raudabaugh's farm where Don Finkey is repairing some faulty wiring and Wayne Shughart, County Agent, is coming to speak with the owner about a new fertilizer. As the plane passes along, over the Super Highway I catch a glimpse of Ronnie Mell's truck lumbering its way toward Philadelphia. I fasten my safety belt for here I am back home again after a pleasant and informing trip to Washington, and as I land I realize once more that the Gods and Goddesses of real life are much more effective at keeping the world spinning than any I've read about in mythology.

Action

The team opened the season with a thrill-packed game with Camp Hill, and won by a score of 13-12. The following week the Bubblers suffered a defeat at the hands of a very experienced Hummelstown team, 25-7. After this defeat, the Bubblers buckled down and won eight straight games—including a victory over the high-flying Swatara "Eagles." Then in the final game of the season, the Bubblers were defeated by a very determined Susquehanna team by the score of 14-13.

In five of the eleven games the Bubblers held the opposition scoreless. It was a successful season for the Bubblers, who won the Runner-up Trophy in the Lower Susquehanna Conference with a 9-2 record.

The "First Jump"

After a few set backs at the beginning of the season, the Bubblers were again back at their old winning ways. During the season the team ran up an eighteen-game winning streak, that was finally broken by Camphill in the opening round of the Class "B," District 3, P.I.A.A. play-offs. They won the Adams County League Championship, the Shalighnessy play-offs and extended its winning streak in Adams County League competition to forty-nine straight games. Congratulations to the team for a thrilling season.

The opening game of the season scheduled Littlestown against the Bubblers on January 7. At half time the team held Littlestown to a 12-12 score but in the second half the opponents outscored the team recording the Bubblers' first loss of the year.

The girls walked onto the Newville floor on January 13 to win their first game of the season. Barbara Hess led the team to victory with a total of 21 points followed by Shirley Rynard with 11 points.

The following week the girls faced York Springs on the opponents' floor. This game added the second defeat to the girls' record but sport fans saw a well-fought game by the Bubblerettes.

Sophomore Marlene Brenneman led the team to their second win out of four games when the team played Fairfield on January 28. The team showed the Bubbler spirit as they returned to winning time.

The week of February 4 scheduled the big game of the year for both boys' and girls' teams journeyed to Biglerville to play the Canners. The team fought well to add the Canners to their list of victories but dropped the game to a score of 27-19.

The closest and most exciting game of the season followed the big game when the team faced New Oxford. The New Oxford girls led at half time but the Bubblers returned to take a 36-35 victory over the New Oxford lasses.

The fourth victory of the season came when the team wallopped the East Berlin girls to a score of 38-18. Shirley Rynard sparked this time with 17 points. This ended the season for the girls in league competition who placed third in the Adams County League.

SHIRLEY RYNARD

The center position for the Bubblerettes has been filled for the past two years by Shirley Rynard, who has been a great asset to both this year's team. Shirley scored 52 points in league competition and ended the season with a 7.4 average.

FRAN ROWLES

This was Fran's second year as forward for the Bubbler ettes she was a starting forward and regardless of her small stature pushed 43 points through the net. It seems Fran sparks any team she plays on because of her fleetness.

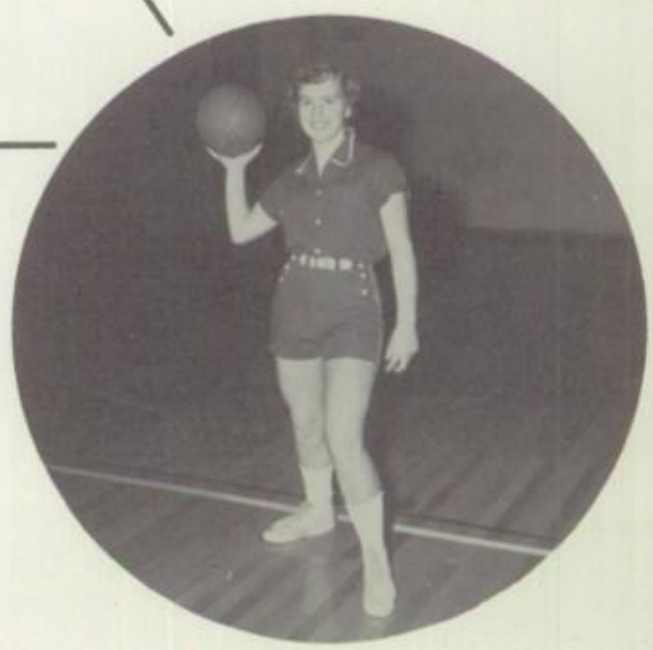
The only guard position filled by a senior year was that of Donna Shughart. Having been a team member for three years, Donna's experience aided the team greatly in winning play.



Wrestling

Wrestling was introduced at Boiling Springs this year for the first time in the history of the school. Mr. Jack Hardford directed the organization of this new and different sport. Boys from grades eight to twelve participated in the sport this year.

Advisor—FORREST DOEBLER

The primary purpose of the Student Council is stated in the preamble of the organization's Constitution which reads:

"We, the students of the Boiling Springs High School, in order to provide opportunities for student self-expression and self-direction to create opportunities for closer cooperation between students and faculty, to foster school spirit, to aid in the direction of all worthy school activities, do ordain and establish this constitution."

Representatives are selected by classes of the high school so that each homeroom is represented. Duties of members are to inform students of the council's work, to promote council affairs and to act as members of hall patrol and committees when appointed.

The president of Student Council is selected from the junior class in the spring of the year preceding the newly-elect's term of office. Elections are similar to those of the national government. Other officers are selected from the council's representatives early in the fall.

Dances are sponsored for the students. The Heart Dance in February is the main dance under council sponsorship.

Newspaper Club

The Newspaper Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Snyder, is endeavoring to stimulate an interest in Journalism among the students. Helen Musselman, editor-in-chief, and her staff have produced a prize-winning newspaper on Tuberculosis which has been entered in the national contest. This year, for the first time, each student received a copy of each issue of the newspaper free of charge.

Hobby Club

The Hobby Club consists of Junior High students in seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. The officers of the club are Ernest Watmough, President; David Matz, Vice President; and Edith Martin, Secretary. The activities are carried out by each member, who brings in the hobby in which he is interested. Mr. Deitch, their advisor, helps in cases of doubt.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleading squad captained by Max Lebo, has done much for the morale of the teams, both on the football field and the basketball court.

The nine members of the squad were elected by student vote to lead the students at games and to lead snappy pep meetings, such as we have had in the past years.

Majorettes

JACKIE MOFFITT JANE HEINZE DONNA KARPER CHRIS DAVIS
EVELYN KIRACOFF GWEN FENICLE—Head Majorette

The majorettes are composed of six vivacious girls who have mastered the tricks of the twirling trade. These girls give our band its added sparkle and zest.

Chorus Club

The Chorus Club consists of fifty-five students from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, who meet every other Tuesday for club singing. They assisted the Senior High Chorus by singing in the Christmas Program and helping with the details of the Operetta.

OFFICERS—President, Kathie McCoy; Vice President, Audrey Shoppe; Secretary-Treasurer, Janie Wise; Advisor, Miss Mary Hoehler.

Varsity Club

OFFICERS—President, John Stover; Vice President, Grover Beam; Secretary, Edward Dasher; Treasurer, Paul Dugan.

The Varsity Club is composed of boys from all sports activities in the school.

The main function of this club is the sponsoring of the All-Sports Banquet. Players, coaches, and managers from the Sports World are invited as guests of the club in its fun-filled evening.

Girls' Sports Club

The Girls' Sports Club advised by Mrs. Jeannette Hinkel has become active in many sports and social activities. The day we visited them, the members were enjoying dancing to records.

While meeting regularly in the activity period, they enjoyed basketball games and snappy fun-filled rallies.

OFFICERS—President, Jackie Timmons; Secretary, Margie Hinkel.

Junior High Science Club

The Junior High Science Club is composed of boys interested in Science, from grades seven, eight, and nine. In this club the students work on different Science projects in which they are interested. Part of their club time was spent wisely in learning the operation and repairing of Visual Aids projectors.

OFFICERS—President, Dick Tammanosky; Vice President, Paul Samuelson; Secretary-Treasurer, Jim Davidson.

Business Education Club

The Business Education Club was organized for the business students of Boiling Springs. Students are encouraged and prepared for the business world through the club's efforts. Activities were rounded off with a party at the end of the year.

OFFICERS—Advisor, Miss Davis; President, Betty Chronister; Vice President, Jeanne Kuhn; Secretary, Shirley Rynard; Treasurer, Shirley Chronister.

Visual Aids

The Visual Aids Department takes charge of all motion pictures coming to the school for educational and entertainment purposes. When a film is received they notify the teacher to whom it belongs at once. The teacher and the V. A. Department select a suitable time to show the film.

OFFICERS—Advisor, Mr. Robert Whitcomb; President, Ed Dasher; Vice President, Charles Sherman; Secretary, Creedon Coulson; Treasurer, Bob Hammann.

Junior Audubon Society

Purposes: We help to conserve our natural resources and protect wildlife. We belong to the National Audubon Society, but also the American Forestry Association and the National History Club of New York. Plans: Prize projects for Open House, conclude with hike and a picnic.

OFFICERS—Advisor, Myrtle Groome; President, Delores Richwine; Vice President, Donald Lesher; Secretary, Janet Putt; Treasurer, Bruce Wilson.

Bubblerettes

OFFICERS—President, Marie McCoy; Secretary, Carolyn Meals; Treasurer, Nancy Calaman; Advisors, Miss Faye Lewis and Miss Carolyn Lackey.

The "Bubblerettes" founded this year, acts as a service club to other school organizations promoting sale of tickets, acting as guides or ushers and serving each in the best way possible.

Public Relations

School news and events are presented to the public through the Public Relations Club which works directly with newspapers, radio and television stations. Two correspondents work with the Patriot News of Harrisburg while other students work with Carlisle radio and Harrisburg television stations.

Patrol Club

The Patrol Club is an organization which is state-wide. Its headquarters are located in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Its members are stationed in our school buses and downtown, with the idea of keeping order among the students, for their own personal safety.

OFFICERS—Advisor, Mr. Jacob Deitch; Captains, Dean Leib, Charles Jacoby; Lieutenants, Ed Tanger, Bob Nealy, Gary Fishel, Bill Miller.

Junior Dramatics Club

The Junior High Dramatic Club organized with Miss Sally Briner as their advisor. It is composed of students from grades seven through nine. At its bi-weekly meetings, members have an opportunity to express and develop their dramatic talent in reading, plays, skits, etc.

OFFICERS—President, Romaine Raudabaugh; Vice President, Illene Nailer; Secretary, Juanita Garman; Treasurer, Evelyn Kiracofe.

Library Club

The Library Club is one of the most popular and useful clubs in our school. The twenty members spend many vacant periods in the library assisting Miss Maxine Gross, their advisor, checking, repairing and classifying books and general library duty.

One of the services they perform is to give assistance to grade school children in selecting books for reading and they also help them to return them.

OFFICERS—President, Pat Goodyear; Vice President, Deanna McDilda; Secretary, Nancy Brenneman.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America is part of a National Organization of girls interested in furthering their interest in Home Economics. The National Organization consists of forty-six States (not including South Carolina and Rhode Island), Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, and also District of Columbia. In Pennsylvania there are 363 Chapters and 11,871 members.

Our Organization has three Degrees which are given to those members who wish to work for them, they are: Junior, Chapter and State Degree.

Our Club Activities for this year included:

Regional Conference at Cressona: Where Joan Brandt and Pat Reffner gave a talk on how to obtain your Degrees.

Farm Show and Annual State Meeting; where State Degrees were awarded to Joan Brandt and Pat Reffner.

State Convention in June at Pennsylvania State University. Local Officers attend this meeting.

World Christmas Festival sent Christmas boxes to Children Overseas.

National Northeastern Meeting at Durham, New Hampshire. Our school was represented by Joan Brandt, there were only fifty-four students from Pa. permitted to attend.

Our projects for the year were—Sale of Pa. Cook Books, Vanilla extract, Dish Cloths, Tea Towels, Christmas Corsages and Canes.

The County Organization was organized by Frances Brandt, Joan Brandt, and Pat Reffner in February—Joan Brandt was elected Vice President of Cumberland County.

Farm Show demonstration was presented by Frances Brandt, Joan Brandt, Pat Reffner and Pat Cook.

Junior Degree was awarded to Frances Brandt in January.

F.H.A. Banquet Chapter Degree was awarded to Frances Brandt. There are also Junior Degrees given to other members.

The Flower the Red Rose, the Motto: Toward New Horizons signifies that our club is in the hands of our youth.

Senior Chorus

President ..... JERRY SHULTZ
Secretary ..... MARIE McCOY

Vice President ..... DEAN LEIB
Accompanist ..... GWEN FENICLE

Director ..... MARY HOEHLER

The chorus under the direction of Miss Mary Hoehler consists of students from grades nine through twelve who perform for school events and productions.

The first major presentation of the year by the chorus was the annual Christmas Cantata this year being "Martin and the Christ Child" by Tolstoy. Soloists and entire company provided traditional Christmas music for the Russian story.

Choral work for the Minstrel Show, February 25, consisted of songs characteristic of the theme "Moonlight Minstrel."

The major work of the chorus is the operetta which is given bi-annually. Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller" was the work selected for this year's presentation. Leading roles were portrayed by Helen Musselman, Wayne Shughart, Jerry Shultz, and Carolyn Meals. Chorus members portrayed gypsies, ballerinas, and soldiers. For the first year the show included dancing performed by Chris Davis, Barbara Dum, Jane Heinze, Evelyn Kiracofe, Joyce Murphy and Shirley Rynard.

Other than major productions as listed, the chorus performs at assemblies, baccalaureate and other school activities.

The Band

The Band is one of the most outstanding organizations of the school. The compulsory attendance of its many uniformed players from grades five through twelve, at its regularly scheduled practice periods under the skillful direction of Mr. Lynn Brenneman is one of the secrets to the success of the Boiling Springs Band.

At football games, or wherever the occasion demanded music, the Band was there and did its share in making the event a success.

The Band sponsors and participates in numerous activities during the year. One being a Minstrel Show which is produced to raise money for uniforms for the band members. This year's Minstrel was titled "Moonlight Minstrel" with its three acts packed with fun for all. The Band is also active during the summer traveling to band fairs and festivals providing entertaining music for all. They also sponsor a profitable project, a band fair, on the school grounds each summer, playing concerts and providing food for everyone.

Rod and Kustom's Klub

This club consists mostly of boys who are interested in the study of car types, drawings of the various models, becoming better drivers, and also learning more about the types of racers, and what makes a racing man a winner.

Advisor
MRS. MARTHA HOY

Photography Club

The Photography Club consists of both boys and girls and is for the purpose of teaching us the art of taking good pictures and how to develop them.

Advisor
MRS. MARTHA HOY

Nursing Club

The Nursing Club is a new addition to the Science Club and a welcomed one at that. It is made up entirely of girls and is the science of studying the different branches and amount of preparation which is needed for career of nursing, and its different phases.

Advisor

Senior Play

The Little Minister, a vigorous, young man in a new parish, thinks that perhaps he has stepped into the mouth of Hell as he meets riotous weavers along with a strange and beautiful gypsy girl. Even though the minister resented the gypsy, he was willing to aid her when she needed him most. The entering of other interesting characters helps to bring out this truly Scottish play.

Gavin had planned to admonish the gypsy for interfering in the affairs of the villagers but upon meeting her, all words failed. Babbie's love for him makes her decide to go out of the minister's life forever, but the minister has other ideas which prove to be very interesting.

"If I catch you playing pranks with that man, I'll wring your neck like a chicken's!"

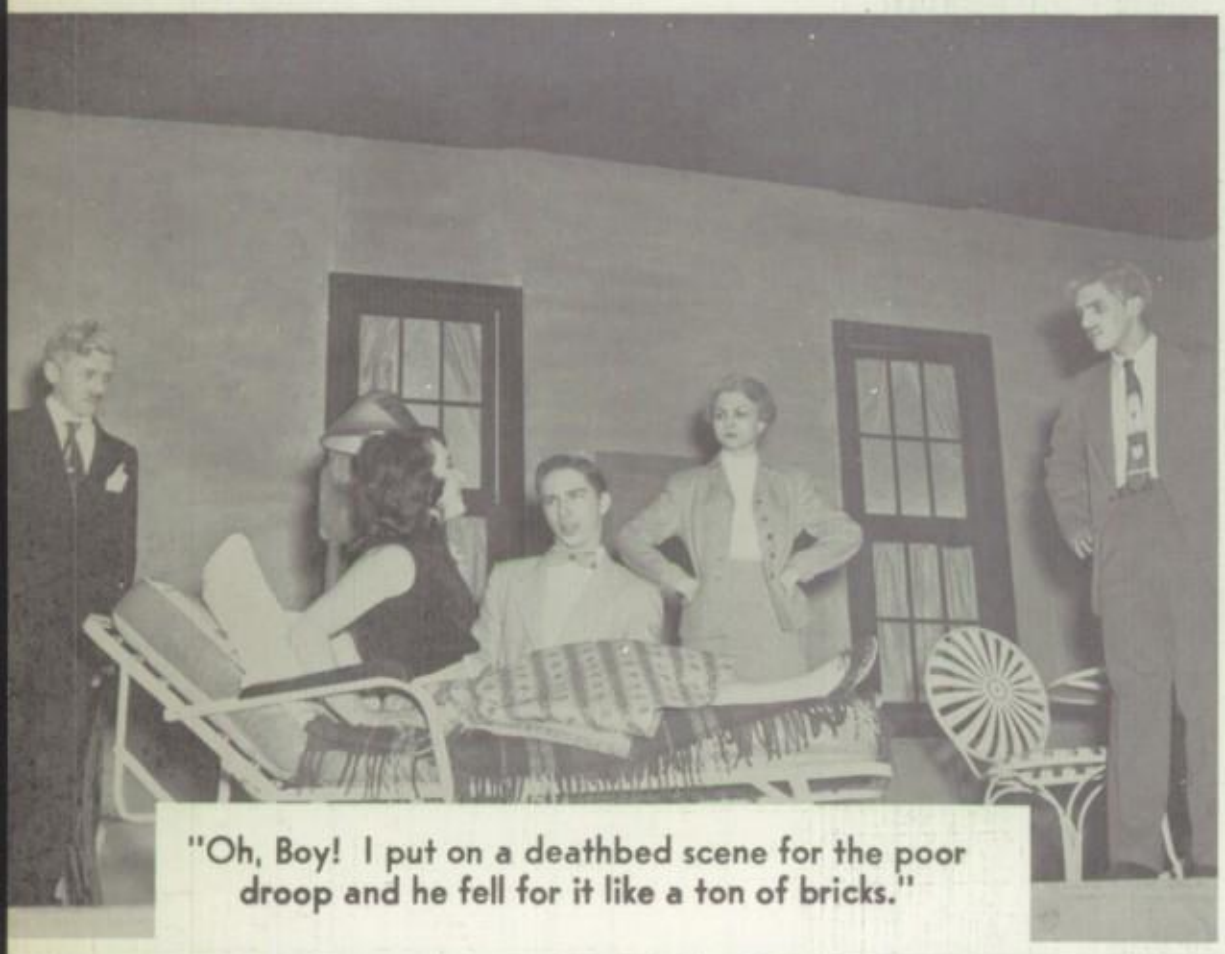
"You're one of them! Ay—you're one of them limmers called women!"

"Meet Corliss Archer"

It all started with a character sketch. Then Corliss received word that her Cousin Agnes was to arrive and the situation developed into a storm. Corliss created a false, exciting diary, which she carelessly placed on a table. Agnes found it, read it and produced a riot in the Archer household. In the mad rush,

"Corliss, there must be hope! Penicillin! Sulpha! Artificial respiration!"



"Oh, Boy! I put on a deathbed scene for the poor droop and he fell for it like a ton of bricks."

Corliss developed a case of appendicitis, which meant Corliss and Dexter were to be separated. Corliss returned home and to test Dexter's devotion she pretended to be in her death bed. He proved his love, all right, later to find out it was a trick. But as love would have it, everything ended well.

Roman Banquet

Shades of the ancient world came to life on the evening of March 24 as the Junior and Senior Latin students and their guests frolicked at the Third Annual Roman Banquet. ULYSEES, portrayed by Tom Lebo, and his charming wife, PENELOPE, interpreted by Joyce Ressler, were host and hostess for the gala affair. Leon Blosser as Major Domo and his well-trained slaves, the first-year students, greeted the guests and served them royally at the delicious feast of Roman foods. Other heroes and heroines included Darrell Clepper as the famed JASON and his clever wife MEDEA with Jane Crum in the role; ATLAS bearing the world on his shoulders, whom we recognized as Paul Bishop; the brave HERCULES revealed as Kermit Gephart; the charmer CIRCE—none other than Patty Goodyear, and MIDAS of the Golden Touch who strongly resembled Dean Leib.

Our invited guests included our Magister Latinae, Miss Hackman; Miss Briner, Miss Lewis and Miss Davis.

Joyce Murphy lent her talents as dancer to provide entertainment and two of our slaves, Helen Musselman and Frances Chronister, sang for us—in Latin, of course. Paul Davidson, Janet Davis and Lois and Lorraine Sponaugle completed the serving crew.

A complete banquet: "ab ovo ad mala" (from eggs to apples as the Romans say) was served by Mrs. Brenneman and three of our mothers: Mrs. Clepper, Mrs. Leib, and Mrs. Chronister. May this delightful custom continue for many years.

Above: J. Heinze, C. Davis, D. Leib do pantomine while F. Chronister gives summary of Physics in Education.

To celebrate American Education Week, an assembly was held with students doing pantomines showing the progressive fields in Education. The band and chorus provided the musical portion of the program.

Below: Mr. Hess, L. Blosser, W. Shughart, Mr. Geiman, G. Mack, J. Moffitt, Mrs. Shenk participate in a debate.

To provide facilities to help youth develop their capacities to appreciate beauty in literature, art, music, and nature.

To provide facilities to help youth develop and maintain physical fitness and mental health.

We dedicate this building to meet the needs of youth

To provide facilities to help youth use their leisure time well and to budget it wisely, balancing activities that yield satisfactions to the individual with those that are socially useful.

To provide facilities to help youth develop respect for others, to grow in their insight into ethical values and principles, to be able to live and work cooperatively with others, and to grow in the moral and spiritual values of life.

To provide facilities to help youth grow in their ability to think rationally, to express their thoughts clearly, and to read and listen with understanding.

have earned their degrees

E & D papers don't own PhD's, but they do have degrees of filtration, clarity and rapidity. More than 60 grades are regularly made for laboratory and industry.

E & D papers have been going to school since 1890. Quite a record. And they are made by the only company in America exclusively devoted to the manufacture of filter paper.
